

What about non-patentable discoveries?

An invention or discovery that may not meet patent law criteria may still have commercial utility and value and should be disclosed to the University.